Artisan Tile & Marble Company Wins Honors

Dimensional Stone, October 1988

Artisan Tile and Marble Company of NJ has been named this year's first place winner in both the tile and marble categories, with an Honorable mention in the masonry division, by the New Jersey State Conference of Bricklayers and Allied Craftsmen and Tile Mason Contractors of New Jersey. The awards were given to Artisan Tile and Marble for the excellence in the "Concept, Design, Originality and Application" shown in it's Union Valley Corporate Center installation in Howell, NJ. Artisan Tile and Marble earned its two first place awards over 75 other entries judged on various projects in New Jersey.

The building is owned by the Union Valley Corp./Crestwood Center Association and Mr. Mark Dubrow. It was designed by Rotwein and Blake Associated Architects of Union, NJ and constructed by Smorol Construction Co. of Rahway, NJ. The marble was supplied by Gerard Dente Trading Co., Inc. of Cedar Grove, NJ. The tile was supplied by American Olean Tile Company of Landsdale, PA and U.S. Ceramic Tile Company of East Sparta, Ohio. The setting materials were supplied by H.B. Fuller (Tec) of Edison, NJ.
