BAC Contractors John Sekora (left) of Artisan Tile, Tile Promotion Fund Trustee, and Vincent DeLazzero of Port Morris Tile, President of the Greater New York/ New Jersey Tile Contractors Association, here at the reception following "Celebration of Tile '97". Earlier they spoke on the importance of utilizing union contractors.

IMI's booth at the second annual Celebration of Tile conference in Absecon, New Jersey, taught design professionals the importance of using union craftworkers.

"This event provided a good understanding of why architects and designers should have qualified union craftworkers installing tile, marble, and granite on their projects," said Edward Bredow, a partner at Wank Adams Slavin Architects in New York.
